

DrupalCamp London 2012

After initial discussions around a London Drupal Camp, some individuals and companies including Acquia, Agile Collective, BrightLemon, Cameron & Wilding, Catch Digital, Code Enigma, Deeson, Darren Mothersele, David O'Dwyer, io1 and RedKey Digital have got the ball rolling.

The outputs of this group will be completely free to anybody who wishes to help and the process will be 100% open and democratic. We are looking to get as much positive input from people in the Drupal community – and also other wider communities such as Symphony, PHP and MySQL over the next few months.

At this stage there will be regular meetings, concentrating on defining the camp's purpose and laying the foundation for a more community driven event, shaped by London's Drupal community.

The planning will take place over the next few months, with open discussions for anybody to join and contribute to. These will be monthly meetups which everybody can attend; the first community meeting will be announced shortly.

All meeting notes will be posted on drupal.org and drupal.org.uk.

We'll keep you posted on progress.