Chat with the Drupal Community on IRC

View Revisions

Last updated January 11, 2012.

The Drupal IRC channels are vital for connecting the community. Not only are they a great way to get fast, effective support, but they allow users to learn more and to get involved. Drupal uses the FreeNode IRC network, irc.freenode.net, and occupies the following channels, as well as these Regional IRC Drupal channels. Note that conversations on some of the Drupal channels are being logged.

Check the "Setting up IRC" page for information on how to get connected to IRC.

Essential Channels to Join

- #drupal is a lounge of sorts. Here, we talk about patches we need reviewed, quick how-to questions, and what we've been doing with Drupal lately, among other things. If it's Drupal-related, and isn't in-depth enough to take over the channel with lots of text, and doesn't need a quiet venue, it is fair game in #drupal.
- #drupal-contribute is the place to go if you want to help with core and contrib coding work, promotion, advocacy, infrastructure, and general Drupal community tasks. The rule of thumb here: if it ends up on the drupal.org infrastructure, and you are working on it or want to work on it, then this is the place to talk about it.
- #drupal-support is for help on drupal.org development. While such questions are also to

Views Autocomplete Filter and HTTP 0 error fixed

Posted by Drupalpress, Drupal in the Health Sciences Library at UVA on February 13, 2012 at 3:55pm

Goal: Improve User Interface for our 10,000+ list of electronic resources.

Solution: When working with long lists a good UI makes all the difference. In our electronic resources catalog the Views Autocomplete Filter module allows patrons to filter through thousands of titles in a few clicks. Views Autocomplete Filter works in much the same way as Better Exposed Filters (and I wish there were some way to have both filters in the same view - if anyone reads this and has a thought on that it'd be greatly appreciated...). For the videophiles here's the two minute review

Groups - Startseite

The screenshot shows the Groups.Drupal website interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the Groups.Drupal logo and navigation links: My account, Recent, Recent, Jobs, Groups, Events, and Log out. A search bar is located on the right side of the header. Below the header, a yellow banner contains the text: "groups.drupal.org serves the Drupal community by providing a place for groups to organize, plan and work on projects. Real world local user groups (sometimes called meetups) and regional Drupalcamps in particular are encouraged to setup their online presence here."

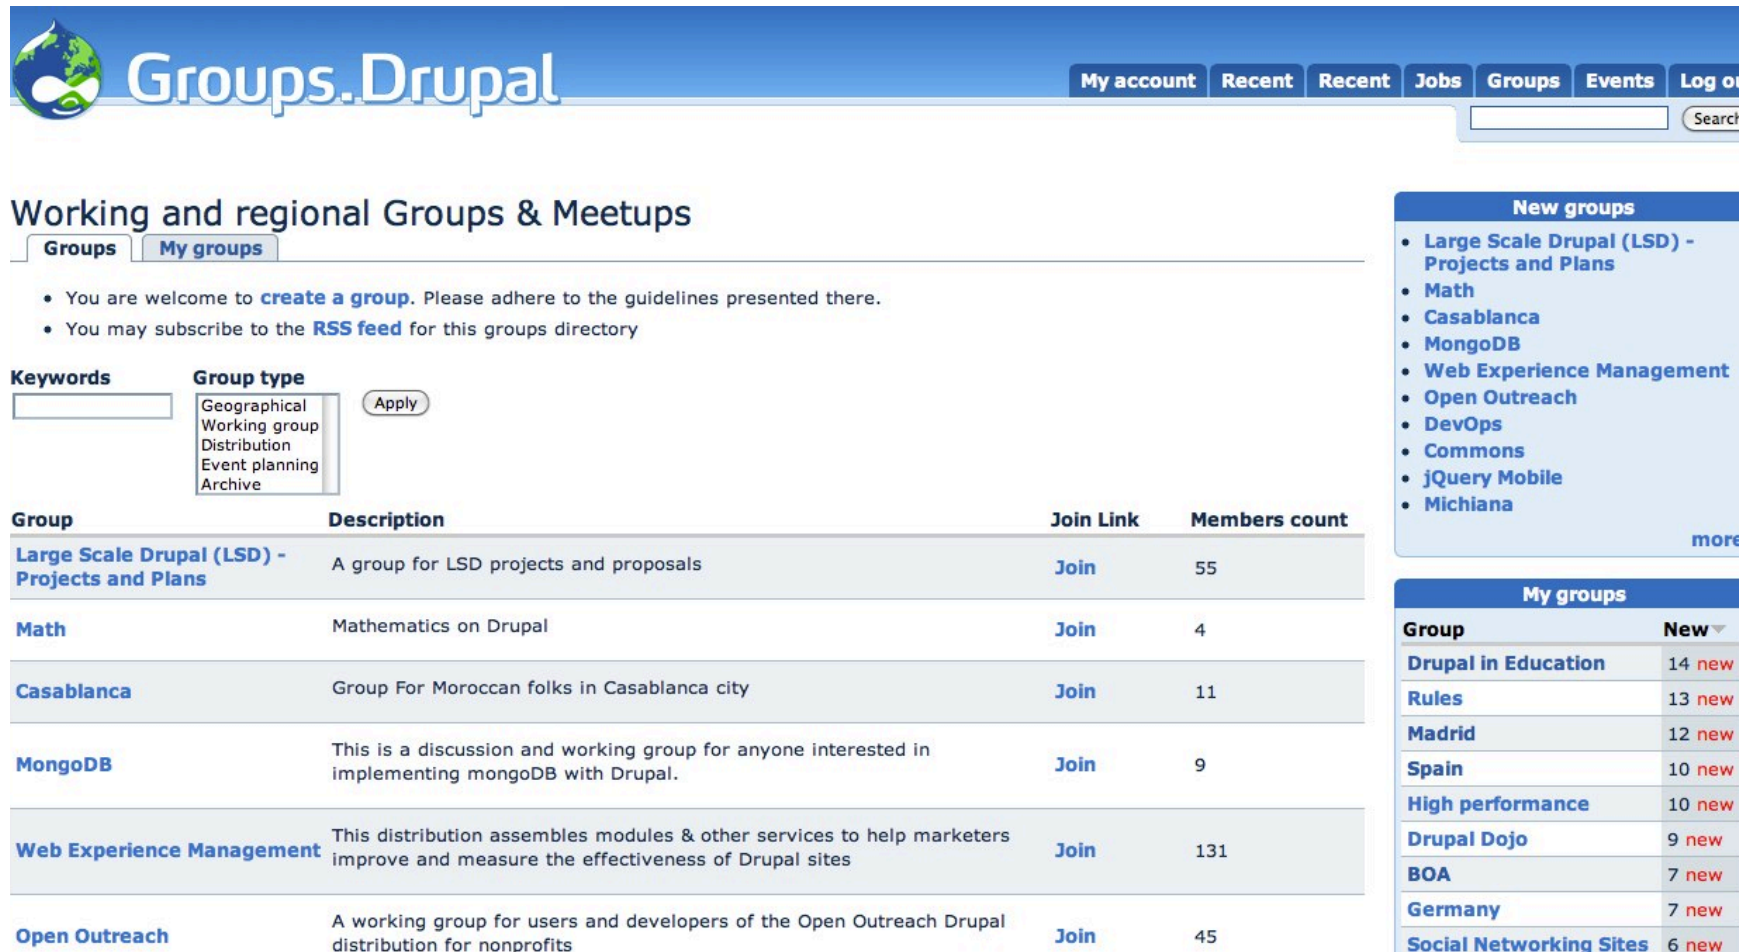

The main content area features two article teasers. The first is titled "Drupal Association Board Elections--Ideas and Input Needed", submitted by nedjo on Thu, 2011-12-29 23:22, and last updated by kattedkrab on Thu, 2012-01-05 03:54. It has 3 votes and a call to action: "Please join in a meeting Wednesday Jan. 4 at 20:00 UTC to help plan the elections!". The second article is titled "Drupal Summit Latino, Guadalajara 2012", submitted by jackbravo on Thu, 2011-12-01 03:24. It has 6 votes and lists organizers: koffer, develCuy, Joyita, and KarimB. The article text includes "Start: 2012-01-19 09:00 - 2012-01-21 15:00 America/Mexico_City" and "Organizers: jackbravo".

On the right side, there are two sidebars. The "New groups" sidebar lists several groups: Large Scale Drupal (LSD) - Projects and Plans, Math, Casablanca, MongoDB, Web Experience Management, Open Outreach, DevOps, Commons, jQuery Mobile, and Michiana. The "My groups" sidebar shows a table of groups with their respective vote counts and "new" status.

At the bottom, there is a yellow banner with the text: "Español" and "Toda América Latina celebra el mayor encuentro Drupal del año 2012!".

Groups – Meine Gruppen

The screenshot shows the Groups.Drupal website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Groups.Drupal logo and a search bar. Below the navigation bar, the 'My groups' section is highlighted with a red box. This section contains a table of groups with columns for Group, Organizer, Manage, Posts, and New posts. To the right of the 'My groups' table, there are two sidebars: 'New groups' and 'My groups'. The 'New groups' sidebar lists various groups like 'Large Scale Drupal (LSD) - Projects and Plans', 'Math', 'Casablanca', etc. The 'My groups' sidebar shows a summary of the groups listed in the main table, including 'Drupal in Education', 'Rules', 'Madrid', 'Spain', 'High performance', 'Drupal Dojo', and 'BOA'.
