Problemas comunes (Wysiwyg)

- Imposible añadir contenido “rico” (galerías, acordeones, fondos, etc ...)
- Markup defectuoso y/o estilos inline
- Confusión en los editores (admin de contenido)
- No es responsive

¿Qué es Paragraphs?

- ¡Paragraphs es una nueva forma de creación de contenido!
- Permite (Site Builders) hacer las cosas más limpio para dar más poder de edición a sus usuarios finales.

¿Por qué Usarlo?

- No es necesario WYSIWYG.
- Trae un nuevo campo de tipo "paragraphs" similar a Entity Reference o Field Collections.
- Permite definir un bundle de campos, un usuario puede insert el desaeado.
- Los Bundles de Paragraph se pueden anidar.
- Hay módulos disponibles para extender las funcionalidades.
- Disponible para Drupal 7 y 8.
- Es exportable, se integra con Search API y Views.

¿Qué puedo hacer?

Fill the Content Bucket More Easily

Your content doesn't just have to come from your organization. Today, content needs to move in and out freely. Drupal makes it easy to ingest third-party content (e.g. from aggregators and syndicators), bringing content into your Drupal environment, then making it easy to push to any site, app or channel.

Share Content Beyond Your Sites

Today, organizations want to share content across many different channels and apps, and get that content out where the audiences are inside of content aggregators disrupting the news business. Content teams need an easy way to create content, then share it with minimal effort. With Drupal's content-as-a-service capability, Drupal content is easily consumed by other sites and apps you choose.

Change the Look, Change the Experience in a Snap

Separating back-end content from front-end presentation offers a big bonus: It makes it easy for Drupal front-end developers to redesign or reskin an experience, minus worrying about the content in the CMS. With Drupal, redesigns are a snap - change the look, change the experience.

Friends Dispatches

Friends Member Spotlight

"There is no substitution for the experience of encountering a place built by people long ago and learning from them. I am proud to support an organization that protects these special places and also helps set the pieces in place for sites to be preserved by future generations. Once these wonderful spaces are gone they can never be replaced." – Dawn Kikel, New York City, member since 2011

Friends Garuda: Work Begins!

In 2014/15, Friends of WMF and other donors joined together to adopt a Garuda—a monumental carved sculpture—at the iconic temple of Preah Khan in Cambodia. Restoration is now underway, made possible thanks to the many who supported this important initiative. Read about the team's first steps toward restoration on our blog.

Of Interest: Stowe House Music Room Restoration

WMF members are making a future possible for an incredible array of cultural heritage sites around the world. For example, WMF Britain, in partnership with the Stowe House Preservation Trust, completed the restoration of the magnificent Stowe House, in Buckinghamshire. See one of the finest painted interiors of the Georgian era in this video about the restoration of the Music Room at Stowe.
