

FREE ADMISSION!

January 22, 2011

DRUPAL CAMP

WESTERN MASS

When:

January 22, 2011 (Snow date January 29, 2011)

Where:

University of Massachusetts Amherst
Integrated Sciences Building

Registration:

FREE Registration at <http://drupalcampma.com>

Description:

Anyone interested in learning more about Drupal should come to the Western Mass Drupal Camp! Registration and attendance is free to the public. There will be presentations and sessions throughout the day appropriate for people at every level of expertise, from beginners to experts. Mark your calendar!

Details are still emerging about the schedule of events. We hope to offer a keynote presentation in the ISB auditorium (ISB135) and a series of presentations and birds-of-a-feather sessions in the Computer Resource Center (ISB321, 325, and 329). A welcome-center and exhibition is planned for the atrium.

Drupal is an open source content management platform, selected by UMass Amherst to support future web-development on campus, that powers millions of websites and applications worldwide. It's built, used, and supported by an active and diverse community of people around the world. Visit <http://drupal.org/> for more information about Drupal.

Sponsors:

<http://www.rvtc.us/>

<http://www.left-click.us>